Join Global Launch at Arizona State University

International students choose to study in the U.S. for many reasons — some want to improve their English proficiency, others seek to enroll in a degree program, and many just want to experience life on an American college campus. We believe the university you choose should have a community that gives you the support you need and the opportunities that will help you achieve your goals. Global Launch is that place for you.

Intensive English Program
The Intensive English Program, also known as IEP, helps students from around the world become proficient in English and prepare them to successfully enroll in ASU's top degree programs. There are six IEP levels, and it takes eight weeks to complete each level.

Highly qualified educators
All Global Launch instructors have at least a master's degree.

Globally-minded
Global Launch has served students from more than 160 countries.

Academics focused
Improve your English in activities designed to enhance your reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills.

American culture
Learn about American culture by taking classes on campus with other ASU students.

Conditional Admission to ASU
Students who apply for undergraduate admission and have the required GPA, but do not meet the English proficiency requirement, can receive conditional admission to ASU. In that case, students may enroll in the IEP program instead of retaking the TOEFL exam. Participants will receive a TOEFL waiver for undergraduate admission upon completing the Advanced 2 level of the program.

ASU-USA Pathways
You will receive English and academic support to be successful at ASU while earning 24-26 academic credits toward your undergraduate degree. You can choose between three degree tracks, live and take classes with other ASU students, and complete your degree in four years.
